

Liz Stringer (Australia)

Melbourne's Liz Stringer is one of Australia's most respected and versatile songwriters and musicians, recently completing a year on the road, both in Australia and internationally, in support of her acclaimed 2016 LP "All The Bridges". Recorded in Portland, Oregon, USA at Type Foundry Studio, and released independently in Australia and in North America through Toronto's Roaring Girl Records, "All The Bridges" has continued to solidify Stringer's reputation for the highest quality musicianship, creative autonomy and intensely moving live shows.

A passionate advocate of independent music and extensive regional touring, Liz has become a favourite among punters across Australia for her generous and engaging stage demeanour and her skill as a storyteller. Her powerful and emotive live performances and melodically rich, story based songs have delighted audiences and festival goers around the country on national tours with the likes of The Waifs, Eric Bibb, Mia Dyson, Ron Sexsmith and The East Pointers.

"I am a big fan of Liz Stringer – and you can tell her that!"

- Bonnie Raitt

"All the Bridges" "...gives us the most imposing distillation of Stringer yet... transcending the influences of individual producers, musicians and genres".

- Martin Jones, Rhythms Magazine

"Liz Stringer has become one of the most respected singer-songwriters on the national scene"

- TheMusic.com

"In anybody's language, Liz Stringer is a star."

- Jeff Jenkins, HOWZAT

"Her voice is soulful and feisty, her novella-like lyrics visceral, yet poetic. A true wordsmith...."

- Jo Roberts, Music Australia Guide
